Patrick O'Connell of Chicago, brother of the late John O'Connell arrived in Baxter Thursday morning.

Don't forget the proposition to build a county jail at Columbus and a bridge over Shoal creek at Lowell. These propositions go together and should carry by a large majority. Vote for the jail and bridge.

In spite of the stormy aspect of the weather, a large audience assembled at Willow creek last Thursday evening to hear Clarence E. Hatfield, better known as Takkie Caution, delivered his lecture, "Old Maids, Old Bachelors and Hypocrites." Takkie Caution is a good talker, as well as very funny, and keeps his audience in a continuous roar of laughter. Should he ever return to Willow creek he will be greeted with a crowded house.

James A. Hunter is building a residence on his farm just across the road from the house which was burned about six weeks ago. His new house will be 28x30 feet and is being built on the hillside. It will have a basement eight feet deep, which will be divided into three rooms, and there will be five rooms on the ground floor. He is also building a nice hillside barn. It is not often that such convenient building sites can be found.

A movement is on foot to make a ford across the river below the dam so that when the bridge has to be repaired people can ford the river. The new 100-foot span will shortly be put in and that will close the bridge for two weeks; then the bridge is to be re-floored and that will take two weeks more. If our merchants care for the Garden township trade they should see that the ford is made at once. It can be done for $10 and would be an everlasting benefit to the city. We lost at least $2000 worth of trade last year by an "open" bridge when $10 would have brought the trade here. By all means let us have the ford.

The Santa Fe railroad company is distributing a pamphlet the title page of which reads as follows: "What's the matter with Kansas? Kansas owns in round numbers 900,000 horses and mules, 550,000 milch cows, 1,000,000 other cattle, 2,400,000 hogs and 225,000 sheep. Its farm products this year include 150,000,000 bushels of corn, 60,000,000 bushels of wheat and millions upon millions of dollars in value of other grains, fruit, vegetables, etc. In debts alone it has a shortage."

JOHN O'CONNELL DEAD.

John O'Connell, who was stricken with apoplexy on Tuesday of last week, died Saturday night, Oct. 1, at about 11 o'clock.

Funeral services were held on Monday, Oct. 3, at 2 o'clock p. m. and his remains were interred in the National cemetery, two miles west of town.

Deceased was fifty-seven years of age. But little is known of his relatives.

Following is a tribute from one Mr. O'Connell's best friends:

There are few men whose death will be a greater loss to Baxter Springs than that of the late John O'Connell. He was our most quiet, unassuming, modest citizen, and yet he was the forlorn hope of hundreds who tried in every quarter for financial aid and met with stern refusal. John O'Connell seldom if ever failed in the hour of greatest need to help those who needed help the most. I know that when we had two banks here charging from two to ten per cent a month for money the poorest men in our community were refused at the banks and accommodated by him at a reasonable rate.

John O'Connell lived in this community for over twenty-five years without a word of reproach from those he dealt with. I am told he never sued or harassed a debtor, but was always ready to extend his favors and assist the unfortunate in every way. His deeds of charity were not for publication, but were numerous and appreciated by those whom he assisted.

He was imbued with so strong a love of political and religious liberty that he gave up the creed of his ancestors, and although he expressed an abiding faith in the Creator and a belief in the future happiness of all mankind, he would not admit the necessity of a priest or bishop as a mediator between him and God the Father of all.

As a soldier he was magnificent. Born in Ireland he was not even an American citizen, but only a boy of eighteen when he enlisted in the famous 92d New York regiment and bore arms for almost five years under the old flag on the side of Freedom and the National Union. When he quit fighting for liberty the war was ended and Confederacy was a thing of the past.

"He sleeps his last sleep, he has fought his last battle."

No sound can awake him to glory again."

For Comrade John O'Connell "taps" have sounded and the "lights are out!" but there will be a "reveille" and a "roll call" in the morning at the "grand encampment," where all who have been honorably discharged from this life without blot or "disabilities" will be permitted to re-enlist for time and eternity in that "grand army" gone before, whose banner is "Love" and whose password is "Charity." C. W. D.

A STRAIGHT TALK.

We have decided to give our trade the benefit of cheap wall paper one more month, for the reason that we do not believe we advertised it thoroughly enough. If you intend to paper next spring, it will pay you to buy now. All wall paper factories are in the trust this year and the very cheapest paper we can buy now costs us 4½c per roll in Chicago or 9c a bolt. We would have to sell it for 12½c per bolt. We are now selling papers at 3c, 4c, 5c, and 8c a roll that we have to pay for same grade new 4½, 6½, 8½ and 12½ cents per roll. We are selling Embossed Gills for 16c per bolt that we will have to pay 22c in the market to replace. Remember, this is the last month at the cut prices. We have about 3000 rolls and if there is any left at the end of the month we will have to raise it to the market price. There is no town in the country making such prices as we are now.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters, and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50c a bottle at A. R. Kane's drug store.

Aug. J. Bogel, the leading druggist of Shreveport, La., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is the only thing that cures my cough, and it is the best seller I have." J. F. Campbell, merchant, of Safford, Ariz., writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is all that is claimed for it; it never fails, and is a sure cure for consumption, coughs and colds. I cannot say enough for its merits." Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is not an experiment. It has been tried for a quarter of a century and today stands at the head. It never disappoints. Free trial bottles at A. R. Kane's Drug Store.
